What can YOU do to stop Planned Parenthood's heinous practice of selling fetal body parts?

<http://soundchoice.org/shock-video-catches-planned-parenthoods-top-doctor-selling-body-parts-of-aborted-babies/>

The Center for Medical Progress released a shocking video yesterday, July 14, 2015, of a high level Planned Parenthood Federation of America executive calmly discussing gruesome methods to abort babies that yield the highest quality organs for sale while she sipped red wine and ate her salad. Most of you are asking what YOU can do to stop this.

Prayer, of course, is first. Contacting your elected officials and your church representatives is also an obvious course of action. However, as we at Sound Choice Pharmaceutical Institute have discovered over the past 8 years as we led the effort to inform the public and first informed the Center for Medical Progress about these horrific fetal trafficking offenses, our elected officials and our church leaders will not take action to stop the trafficking of fetal body parts unless alternatives are available.

The most effective way for YOU to stop the trafficking of fetal body parts is to support organizations like Sound Choice Pharmaceutical Institute and AVM Biotechnology, whose mission is to develop moral alternatives so that no one will ever feel compelled to, nor be able to claim any justification for, using aborted fetal or other unethical sources of human body parts or materials for medical progress.

Will our elected officials and church leaders take action UNLESS alternatives are available? Sadly, the answer is NO.

We must have alternatives or those who are supposed to lead us won't act. Over the past 8 years I and the SCPI board members have met with state and federal congressmen and senators, bishops and archbishops, and "Catholic" bioethics organizations seeking support for our efforts to provide moral alternatives that would eliminate demand for fetal body parts. Tragically, we have all been failed by complacency and misguided opinions from those who should be leading us that "some good could come of abortion", "it was only done once", and most regularly "there are no alternatives". None of those statements is true, and both SCPI and AVM Biotechnology are close to alternatives. With your support we can have those alternatives promptly available. All we need are your prayers and financial support.

What does the secular press say about SCPI and AVM Biotechnology?

In contrast to the religious leaders and elected officials who have let us all down, Sound Choice Pharmaceutical Institute and AVM Biotechnology have received good press from multiple secular publications about our work to provide alternatives to abortion based research built on the sale of aborted fetal body parts.

The Puget Sound Business Journal said in 2010: A grant from one of Washington's largest foundations to a fledgling organization could expand a debate in biomedical ethics reminiscent of clashes over the use of stem cells." Puget Sound Business Journal May 21-27, 2010: Grant aims for alternatives to abortion-linked research. By Clay Holtzman <http://s3.amazonaws.com/soundchoice/soundchoice/wp-content/uploads/2012/08/Puget-Sound-Business-Journal-May-2010-Grant-aims-for-alternatives-to-abortion-based-research..pdf>

Fierce Biotech, the "Biotech Industry's Daily Monitor" reported October 1, 2010 "Deisher aims for pro-life vaccine company." <http://www.fiercebiotech.com/story/deisher-aims-pro-life-vaccine-company/2010-10-01>

Luke Zimmerman, writing for Xconomy in October 2010 said "Deisher is in an unusual position to apply her scientific background in a way that's consistent with her beliefs." <http://www.xconomy.com/seattle/2010/10/01/embryonic-stem-cell-research-foe-tracy-deisher-seeks-to-build-pro-life-vaccine-company-nonprofit/>

The Mission of Sound Choice Pharmaceutical Institute in our June 2008 corporate articles of incorporation:

The Corporation is organized exclusively as an educational, scientific, charitable or religious organization within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). Subject to and within the limits of such purpose, the Corporation is organized to undertake all, or any combination, of the following: (i) promotion of public education and awareness about the widespread use of electively aborted fetal material, human embryonic cells or material, or human material obtained from victims of euthanasia, assisted suicide, or capital punishment, and other materials and processes, (ii) certification of existing and future drugs and therapeutics that are not tainted at any step by these materials or processes, and (iii) promotion of scientific development through the support of the research, development, and promotion of drugs and therapeutics that are not tainted at any step by these materials or processes.

The Mission Statement of AVM Biotechnology:

Taking into consideration the totality of the sanctity of life issues including: human trafficking, prisoner's rights, immigrant rights, and human fetal and embryonic respect, AVM Biotechnology will conduct its business, including biomedical research, such that no other human or human being is physically exploited or intentionally harmed.

Our values are based upon a profound respect for human life from its beginning until its natural conclusion. AVM Biotechnology certifies that its therapeutic products and technologies are not discovered, screened, evaluated, produced, or tainted in any way by the use of i) directly and electively aborted human fetal or embryonic material, ii) human embryonic material derived from electively or intentionally discarded, destroyed or injured human embryos, or iii) any other human materials obtained in a manner that does not respect the sanctity of each human life.
